February Update

I hope he's right this time. It hasn't been six weeks since his prediction and it feels like spring. We have planted peas and radishes in the greenhouse to give us an early crop for the winter market.

Our geminator is full of flats with onion seeds. Cucumbers, tomatoes and peppers will be next. The new chicks have arrived. They are Black Star which lay brown eggs and Ameracaunas which will lay blue eggs. They had an arduous journey from Iowa but are happy now and all the cheeping in the greenhouse is uplifting and sounds like spring.

Our 2018 season has already started. Thank you to everyone who has already signed up for our CSA. It gives us an idea of how much to plant. Once you sign up you get a 25% discount on our products at the year round St. Norbert Farmers Market.
