In spite of the weather outside, inside, the greenhouse is green and growing. It is our getaway to a tropical place. Your vegetables are doing very well and we are anxious to harden them off and get them into a cold frame but weather like this makes us want to curl up with a book and dream of summer.

The chickens know it is spring in spite of the weather and are giving us a good supply of eggs. eggs. If you want some, please let us know.
